The 2nd edition of the Community Health Profiles uses Take Care New York (TCNY), the city's health policy, to examine preventable causes of illness and death in all of NYC's 42 neighborhoods. This report updates the 2002 profile (available at nyc.gov/health) by providing more recent and time-trend data, and a greater variety of health statistics.

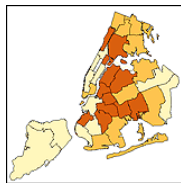

This and previous editions 2003 and 2000 are available for free at:

<http://www.nyc.gov/html/doh/html/data/data.shtml>

The Library also has print versions of 2006 and 2003 editions (call no. RA 448 .N5 C65 2006). Please inquire at circulation desk.

Hunter College now has an institutional account with RefWorks, a web-based bibliographer manager program for downloading citations, formatting bibliographies and footnotes, and much more. If you know how to use Endnote, you will really like the additional functionalities of Refworks.

Simply go to www.refworks.com to set up an account. For outside remote access, you will need the institutional code: RWHuntC when setting up or accessing your account. Also available on RefWorks' website is an online tutorial.
