COMMENCEMENT HONOREES

Edward Lewis, Commencement Speaker and Recipient of President's Medal

Edward Lewis is the chairman and founder of Essence Communications Inc., one of the country's largest African-American multimedia organizations. Founded in 1968, it publishes ESSENCE, considered the country's leading lifestyle magazine for African-American women.

His company also does television production, licensing, and direct-mail marketing and produces the Essence Music Festival, an annual celebration of African-American music and culture. In 2003 ESSENCE ranked seventh on Advertising Age's yearly "A-list," the first time that a publication targeted toward African-Americans received this honor. In addition, Lewis has served as chairman of the Magazine Publishers of America.

At the same time that he built a successful business career, Lewis has also been a prominent supporter of many educational, arts, and civil rights causes. He is particularly known for his efforts to bring government leaders and members of the community together to work for mutual respect between police officers and the citizens they serve. In 1998, Lewis became the first African-American to receive the Media-Bridge-Builder Award from the Tanenbaum Center for Interreligious Understanding.

Lewis has established scholarships in political science, journalism, and communications at his alma mater, the University of New Mexico, where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in political science and international relations. For several years, he has lectured at the Stanford University School of Publishing.

David N. Dinkins, Recipient of Doctorate of Humane Letters

David N. Dinkins, the 106th mayor of the City of New York, has dedicated his life to public service and to advocacy on behalf of education, child welfare, compassionate urban policy, and tolerance. A graduate of Howard University (with honors), Dinkins received a law degree from Brooklyn College and began his career in public service as a member of the New York State Assembly. He went on to serve as president of the New York City Board of Elections and city clerk, and he was elected Manhattan borough president in 1985 and mayor in 1989.

Dinkins is currently a professor at the Columbia University School of International and Public Affairs and senior fellow of the Columbia Center for Urban Research and Policy. In recognition of Dinkins' civic achievements, Columbia has established the David N. Dinkins Professorship in the Practice of Urban and Public Affairs.

Among his many civic and philanthropic roles, Dinkins is a founding member of the Black and Puerto Rican Legislative Caucus of New York State, the Council of Black Elected Democrats of New York State, and One Hundred Black Men; a board member of the Association to Benefit Children and the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now; and a member of the steering committee of the Association for a Better New York.

Grace Paley, Recipient of Doctorate of Humane Letters

As an award-winning writer and a political and social activist, Grace Paley has long been a powerful force in American culture. A native New Yorker whose parents came to the U.S. from Ukraine, Paley studied poetry at Hunter, NYU, and the New School. She began writing short stories while raising two children and participating in political demonstrations. Her first story collection, The Little Disturbances of Man: Stories of Women and Men at Love, appeared in 1959 and was followed by stories in such publications as The Atlantic Monthly and The New Yorker and by several other highly acclaimed collections. Her poetry collections include Leaning Forward and Begin Again: Collected Poems. Among her nonfictional works are Just as I Thought, 365 Reasons Not to Have Another War, and Conversations with Grace Paley. With The Feminist Press at CUNY she has published Long Walks and Intimate Talks, a collection of stories and poems with paintings by Vera B. Williams. Much of her writing shows the influence of her political feelings, which, she says, are "almost always on the side of the underdog" and have led to her lifelong activism in anti-war and feminist movements.

Paley has taught at Columbia University, Syracuse University, City College, and Sarah Lawrence College. Named the first official New York State Writer (1989), she has received honorary doctorates from Sarah Lawrence, Bowdoin, Dartmouth, Columbia College, and the University of Michigan.

Academic Heraldry

The caps, gowns, and hoods worn by participants in these exercises are patterned after the attire of monks in the Middle Ages. Those who have earned the bachelor's degree wear a gown with a semistiff yoke, long pleated front, intricate shirring across the shoulders and back and long, pointed sleeves. The holder of the master's degree wears a similar gown, but the sleeve is square and closed at the end with the wearer's forearm coming through a slit near the elbow. Those possessing the doctor's degree wear gowns having broad velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on the full, round, open sleeves. This velvet trimming may be either black or the color of the field of learning represented by the degree.

The hoods, over the shoulders and down the backs of the faculty, reveal the degrees and institutions of the wearers. The velvet binding or edging is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The lining of the hood, in silk, gives the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The shortest hood is the bachelor's; the longest and the broadest is the doctor's; and the master's is midway between these in size. There is much duplication in the colors of the colleges; therefore, they will be left unidentified. However, there is a standard color for the subjects. The most common, including those used at Hunter College, are:

|  |               |
|--|---------------|
| Arts, Letters, Humanities ..... | White         |
| Business .....                  | Sapphire Blue |
| Education .....                 | Light Blue    |
| Engineering .....               | Orange        |
| Health Sciences .....           | Kelly Green   |
| Law .....                       | Purple        |
| Medicine .....                  | Green         |
| Nursing .....                   | Apricot       |
| Pharmacy .....                  | Olive         |
| Philosophy .....                | Dark Blue     |
| Sciences and Mathematics .....  | Golden Yellow |
| Social Sciences .....           | Dark Blue     |
| Social Work .....               | Citron        |
| Theology .....                  | Scarlet       |

Historical Notes

The Mace carried by the Grand Marshall, who leads the Processional and Recessional, was presented to the College by the Alumni Association at the ceremony marking the Centennial of Hunter College in 1970. It is used each year at Commencement and the Honors Convocation.

The lectern on the left side of the stage belonged to Thomas Hunter. The plaque on the lectern reads: "From this desk Dr. Hunter read the Holy Scriptures from 1850 to 1869 in old Grammar School No. 35."
