OUR UNIT at Everybody's Thrift Shop

What is "thrift"? "Thrift" is a dress you have grown tired of, the piece of costume jewelry that went with the dress but doesn't go with your current wardrobe; it is children's clothing long outgrown; it is a three-yard tablecloth which is too big for the dinette table you're using now; it is that fur coat you don't wear any more. "Thrift" is also china, bric-a-brac, household articles and appliances, paintings — you name it, we call it "thrift." Your biggest white elephant may be our biggest seller at Everybody's Thrift Shop.

Everybody's Thrift Shop was incorporated in 1926 with some two or three cooperating groups. Today, sixteen groups cooperate in its maintenance. The shop is open six days a week with each group responsible for manning the shop a required number of hours a week and for pricing its own merchandise. The Hunter Alumni Unit mans the shop on Friday afternoons but our merchandise is sold every day.

Our record to date has been an outstanding one. The members of the Thrift Shop Committee — Frances Grossman — Chairman, Mary Epstein — Co-Chairman, Ray Nussbaum, Helene Rejall, Meta Schechter, Margaret Butterweck — ask that you help to maintain and better this record by sending a steady stream of packages to the Shop.

Please leave the articles you donate at the College Post Office at Hunter in the Bronx or at Park Avenue, at the Alumni Office or take them directly to Everybody's Thrift Shop (except during the month of August when the shop is closed). The address of the Shop is 330 East 59 Street. If you wish, telephone the Shop, EL 5-9263, for collections below 96 Street in Manhattan.

Be sure that your packages are labeled — Hunter Alumni — Everybody's Thrift Shop, 330 East 59 Street, and include your own name and address, so that we may send you tax deduction receipts. The label should be firmly fastened to the outside of the package.

May we urge Alumni to collect "thrift" from their friends and drive in to the Shop to deliver it.
